

A Message from our Executive Director

In light of ongoing new information regarding COVID-19, Think Dignity remains committed to our mission to continue providing basic dignity to those living on the streets.

In an effort to protect the health and safety of the people we serve and our staff, Think Dignity will follow the lead of the U.S. Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the World Health Organization and U.S. state and local health authorities for instruction and guidance. As such, Think Dignity will temporarily halt all mobile and legal programs for the next 14-days and reassess after this period. We understand the impact this will have on the people we serve and thus, in place of programs, will be providing hygiene kits at some of our host sites during this hiatus.

Think Dignity was founded by innovative people committed to finding answers for issues related to homelessness. We are a diverse group of individuals who put our heads, hearts and hands together to develop community-based solutions for social change. During this critical time, we call on our community to support our efforts in continuing to serve unsheltered populations. We encourage our supporters to continue advocating for the basic dignity of our homeless community by demanding that our public officials take the appropriate actions to ensure the health and safety of our unhoused neighbors by providing access to health and hygiene, safe spaces, and accommodating shelter needs.

These times remind us of the meaning of humanity, the power of unity, and the importance of defending the dignity of all our people.

As we continue to monitor this situation, we will work on providing information and resources through our website, social media and newsletter. Please reach out to us at thinkdignity@gmail.com to find ways to support our efforts during this time.

In solidarity,

Mitchelle Woodson, Esq.
